RECEIVER FOR ATLANTIC SHORE LINE RAILWAY

Appointed By U. S. Circuit Court on Petition of Consolidation Coal Co.

Receivers for the Atlantic Shore railway company were appointed Monday by the U. S. Circuit court. They are Frederick O. Conant and Constant Southworth of Portland who are respectively president and treasurer of this company. The receivers were appointed in response to a bill in equity filed Monday by the Consolidation Coal company as a creditor. The action was unopposed by the railroad corporation.

The Atlantic Shore railway operates nearly 160 miles of electric road in Western Maine and New Hampshire. The principal line extends between Biddeford and Portsmouth while there are branches between Kennebunk and Sanford and other towns in York county.

It controls the lines between Dover and Portsmouth, N. H. and between Dover, South Berwick and York Beach. The company has had a hard struggle for several years to meet its financial obligations, and according to officials of the road, the appointment of receivers is expected to bring about a reorganization. Shortly before the court proceedings the directors held a meeting and voted not to oppose the suit. In court they admitted the allegations in the bill in equity and asked to be permitted to join in the suit.

It is alleged in the suit that the particular ground for bringing the action is that the company defaulted the payment of interest on its bonds on October 1. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and has $2,535,250 outstanding bonds. The unsecured liabilities, according to the bill, amount to $29,000. The coal company's bill is for $472.

The property of the Atlantic Shore line railway was sold in December, 1910, under foreclosure proceedings and early in the next year the Atlantic Shore railway company was organized and took over the business.

CONFLICTING STORIES FROM BALKANS

Germans Claim Big Advances—Russia Lands Troops at Varna.

(Special to The Herald)

London, Nov. 2.—Austro-German forces and the Bulgarians have all but crushed the Serbian resistance in the northern part of Serbia, but the victories cost Field Marshal Von Mackensen so dearly that he is calling for reinforcements. With Kraginatz in their hands the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians are driving against Nish and the fortifications about the city are being shelled and small hopes are held that the Serbian capital can hold out against the terrible fire for forty-eight hours. This is offset by the report from Bucharest that the Russian fleet has succeeded in effecting a landing at Varna and that Russian troops are being placed ashore to invade the country. Conflicting dispatches in relation to the Balkan operations have been received. Some that Germans are sweeping all before them, while others say that while the Germans are winning in the north the Bulgarians are losing in the south.

S. troops who are entrenched here, with machine guns have not returned the fire as yet, but a notice has been issued to both sides that unless the direction of their fire is altered so that it will not fall on the American side, the fire will be returned.

PROPOSE A NEW COUNTY

Towns Would Quit Rockingham and Join New Rural District to Be Known as Stark County.

There is a move being made in Derry and other towns in Rockingham county leading to the formation of a new county in this state.

The proposition will be put up to the next legislature to form a county to be called Stark county, with Manchester, now in Hillsborough, as the county seat. The towns of Derry, Londonderry, Auburn, Chester, and possibly Windham might be taken along with others for the new county.

It appears that these towns mentioned want to be a county seat and that there is some feeling against Portsmouth and Exeter, the two shire towns of the county, owing to the matter of getting to and from both places to do court business. It is unlikely that the legislature will make such a change and if those interested do insist on the proposed change it will mean a big fight among the lawmakers at Concord during the session of 1916.

DYNAMITE AND DISGUISES PLAY PARTS IN NEW YORK BOMB CONSPIRACY CASE.

More arrests were expected in New York in the alleged conspiracy of German agents to blow up munition ships sailing from New York and other ports. One of the prisoners taken was Dr. Herbert Klenze, inventor and engineer, who was charged with having given money to a German who has been acting as a stool pigeon for the federal secret service. The money, it is alleged, was to be used in the purchase of explosives to aid in the supposed plot for which Lieutenant Robert Fay, said to be a German reserve officer—though his name does not appear on the German army lists—and Walter E. Schulz were arrested in Grantwood, N. J. Another prisoner was Paul Daeché, a young German living in Jersey City, who is alleged to have bought some of the large quantity of explosives found in the possession of Fay and Schulz. In addition to these men, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Max Breitung, secretary and treasurer of the Oil Well Supply company, who is said to have supplied a large part of a fund of $20,000 which, according to high secret service officials, Fay and his associates have spent in the last few months. Schulz admitted that Fay got $1,000 from German secret service agents in Brussels, but it is said that much more than that came from German American sympathizers. In the pictures No. 1 is Fay after his arrest; 2, seized suit cases with dynamite, false mustaches, wigs, etc.; 3, the fast motorboat owned by Fay; 4, a bomb found in Fay's effects.

William Montgomery Crane Philbrick, son of Oliver and Eliza (Staples) Philbrick, died at his home on Simpson street, Navy Yard Village, Oct. 28, of paralysis. He was born in Kittery, March 16, 1840. He was named for a naval admiral and was one of a family of twelve children, the third youngest. His father moved to Kittery from Rye, N. H., and lived on the navy yard island, where William probably was born. Afterwards his father purchased the Whipple house, Locke's Cove, now owned by the heirs of the late Harrison J. Philbrick. William learned, or acquired, the trade of carpenter, and at the outbreak of the Civil war he enlisted as a landsman on board the U. S. ship-of-war Portsmouth, for three years. He afterwards served on the U. S. S. Monongahela and was detailed as acting carpenter. Both of these vessels were attached to the West Gulf squadron and participated in the capture of New Orleans, the battle of Mobile Bay, and other operations in the Mississippi river and Gulf of Mexico. During the battle of Mobile Bay Mr. Philbrick was slightly wounded in the side. He received an honorable discharge at New York City, April 12, 1865, by reason of his services being no longer required, the ship being out of commission and the war ended. Subsequently he was employed at his trade, and later again entered the government service as a draftsman, being employed as such in Washington, D. C., and Bath, Me., and latterly at the navy yard, Portsmouth, in the construction department, now called the hull division. Some years since he gave up active duty and lived in retirement. Mr. Philbrick was twice married, his first wife being Mary H. Bowden, who died Jan. 16, 1899. His second wife, Sarah A., nee Phillips, survives him. By his first wife he had two children, Mary L., wife of George F. Hayes, and Charles W., a draftsman employed on the navy yard. He was a member of E. G. Parker Post, G. A. R., Riverside Lodge, I. O. O. F., and the Masonic order. He was a member of the Second Christian church, Kittery, and with one or two exceptions his membership was the longest standing in the church rolls at the time of his decease. He was a regular attendant at the church services as long as his health permitted. Mr. Philbrick was an enthusiastic and omnivorous collector of curiosities, and his home is a veritable museum of rare and curious objects gathered from every source during the many years, and from the many places where he has been. It is doubtful if there is a larger or more interesting collection than his in any private home hereabouts. It might be said that "all were fish that came to his net," whether it was rare coins and books, stuffed birds and antique weapons, and his delight was in showing and explaining them to visitors. Mr. Philbrick was a man of social and genial disposition, fond of company and cordial to all, happy in spite of bodily infirmities and suffering. His passing leaves another gap in the fast diminishing ranks of the Civil War veterans; and those who had the privilege of knowing him personally will miss his kind and cheerful greeting, quaint humor and Christian fellowship. "Comrade, good night! Comrade, good night!"

In slumber sweet, sweet be your rest. No foes around the hallowed ground. God's angels keep your last long sleep.

There will be no meeting of the Phoebe Sewing Bee on Wednesday afternoon this week, but all are requested to bring needle and thread to meeting on Friday evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles William of Kittery Point, formerly of this town, a son on Oct. 28.

A party was tendered Miss Doris Moore of Portsmouth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horrocks on Pleasant street Monday evening in celebration of the 16th anniversary of her birth. The evening was an enjoyable one, passed with music and games. Later the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty collation of sandwiches, fruit cream, cake, hot chocolate and juice were served. The young hostess received many pretty gifts, and upon departure of the guests for Portsmouth at 10.30 o'clock, she was showered with a host of good wishes for the future. When the party reached Portsmouth they were given a fine auto ride through the suburbs. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horrocks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore, Guy Horrocks, Ruth Drayton, Doris Moore, Gladys Moore, Belle Sampson, Carrie McDonald, Stella Card, George Lewis, Norman Smith, Ralph Green, Benjamin Downing, Walter Thompson and Clifford Jenkins.

HERMAN RIDDER DEAD.

Most Prominent of German-Americans and Well Known Newspaper Publisher.

New York, Nov. 1.—Herman Ridder, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, and publisher of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, died suddenly on Monday at his home in this city.

The cause of Ridder's death was kidney trouble in an acute form. He had been ill about two months and for two months had been critical. He was in his 65th year.

Among a large number of prominent German-American citizens of the United States, Herman Ridder was one of the most conspicuous figures in the newspaper publishing business and in politics. His associates in the publishing business had honored him at one time with the presidency of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and for many years he held high offices in the Associated Press as treasurer and a director. In politics he was such a factor that he was talked of at the national Democratic convention in Denver in 1908 as a possible nominee for vice president.

Mr. Ridder was owner and editor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, one of the foremost newspapers in the U. S., and through this he was particularly conspicuous recently in his defense of the German war.

Mr. Ridder was one of the so-called self-made men and a resident of New York from birth until his death.

He was born March 5, 1851. His German parents were not far removed from poverty—in fact were so near it that young Ridder began earning his own living when eleven years old, as an errand boy in a hat store. By stages he served in a Wall street broker's office, as employee of a fire insurance company and then as an insurance agent, and then went into the newspaper business where he made his greatest success.

WONDERFUL SEAMANSHIP BY BRITISH NAVY

The "barging about the North Sea" to which Rear Admiral Sir David Beatty recently alluded, while it has lacked the one great opportunity of a smashing contest with the German fleet has included many incidents, which were they known, would add to Britain's gratitude of the navy.

The Scotsman has been permitted to lift the veil a little, and an article by a special correspondent reveals two feats of seamanship which sent a grin around the fleet and helped to nerve the sailors for the continual strain of watching. The correspondent writes:

"Many of our men will recall one such incident which involved quite a feat of seamanship. It occurred out on the North Sea and possibly a little west of the Long Forties. Just about twelve months have gone since the affair, but it still raises a smile in certain quarters. A fast, light cruiser of our navy on a very dull morning, after a calm, cold night, sighted a cargo vessel under a neutral flag and came to regard her with some suspicion.

"The tramp was kept under observation for a long time before she received any evidence at all of being watched. To outside appearance the neutral was in that condition which brings to his mouth the heart of a skipper expectant of salvage, and no doubt more than one trawler had glanced at her that morning hopefully, and again and again for a signal that she had broken down and wanted a tow.

"Lying off in the distance, the warship was satiated, that the tramp was not going large, but was waiting for something. Having arrived at that conclusion the neutral was approached in the usual way and an examination was made. In the making of the examination the unsuspecting Britisher rather scored. The officer inquired with that daisy did not spend much time over it. That was not necessary. He was apparently satisfied as to the bona fides of the tramp when he showed a cheery 'Good-bye!' and returned to his ship.

"His report was to the point. While looking at nothing he had seen enough to be certain that the vessel was neither a neutral nor an innocent tramp steamer with a defect in the engine room. The war ship disappeared and the tramp 'flopped' along with no more than steering gear on as before.

"Throughout eleven weary hours patient eyes and ready guns were turned on that unsuspecting merchantman and at length darkness fell. Then there was vouchsafed the watchers that for which they had waited so long—the combination of lights on the neutral. It was a clever combination. Having learned all that she seemed likely to learn by waiting, and being now certain that anything that was about to happen to the cargo steamer would not be seen by any submarine that might be about, the war ship made a move in the darkness. During the whole eleven hours the position of the suspect had hardly changed. The extra lights of the combination suddenly vanished on the tramp as the cruiser bore nearer; and that was the first indication to the invisible fighting ship that the crew of the tramp had heard the rumble of machinery somewhere and were taking precautions.

"Then an astounding thing happened. On the tramp a section of the darkness materialized in the most startling fashion, and from it there poured over the merchant ship a crowd of sturdy fellows who dashed for the bridge and dived for the engine room and had the ship in their hands and the crew prisoners within five minutes. The cruiser slipping up in the darkness had held sweetly as ever she laid them along a jelly, and the landing party assembled forward did the rest. The crew of the tramp had no time to do anything in the way of warning any one.

"It was smart work and a valuable capture. Stores of food, drums of oil fuel and spare torpedoes were carried under the steam cargo of the supply ship. She was steamed into port by her prize crew, and she steamed very well indeed. It is said that she was steamed out of port again not long after, and that on resuming her interrupted duties with a new crew she exercised a distinctly demoralizing influence upon certain units of the submarine service of the navy.

"The feat of seamanship involved in laying the cruiser alongside her quarry so suddenly and so closely in the darkness was noteworthy, but on the occasion of the fight at racing speed between our battle cruisers and those of the enemy of the Dogger Bank, last January there was provided a no less notable example of the splendid skill with which then fighting ships are controlled.

"It will be remembered that when the Lion dropped out of action, Admiral Beatty transferred his flag to the Princess Royal, steaming at full power, was making her guns with effect upon the enemy without intermission. To recall her from that work in order that the admiral might go on board was apparently no thought of. She had to be overtaken, not recalled. To catch her the admiral boarded the Attack. The destroyer was asked to overtake a battle cruiser which was running at well over 30 miles an hour and to put the admiral on board without delay.

"The Attack was opened out to the task and it may be questioned if even her designers dreamed of the speed she developed. The Princess Royal was overhauled but kept on her furious way, her guns crashing out unceasingly. Steadily the Attack worked closer, and very soon with engine room responding with marvelous precision to the demands of the bridge, she was reduced in speed to enable her absolutely to cling to the vessel ahead of her, and with both vessels rushing along at that terrific pace the admiral passed from the destroyer to the battle cruiser and resumed his place in the action."

NAVY DEPARTMENT NEEDS SUPPLIES

Washington, Nov. 1.—Increases in the navy's store of supplies to make possible the placing of the fleets upon a war basis at a few hours' notice are urged by Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan, paymaster-general, in his annual report submitted yesterday to Secretary Daniels. For the last four years, the admiral says, navy ship tonnage fit for active service has increased thirty per cent while there has been virtually no increase in the value of stores on hand.

"As an example of financial economy," adds the report, "this makes an excellent showing; but it is a condition which should not be permitted to continue, for it is a matter of history that the issue of every great conflict has in the last analysis decided largely upon the question of supply. There should be no real difference between peace times and war times with respect to ship supply."

Admiral McGowan figures the present property investment of the navy at $350,020,375, of which $460,056,551 is represented in ships, $206,035,104 in stations and equipment and $184,238,720 in stores. The total expenditures on the navy from 1794 to 1915 inclusive is placed at $3,211,329,641.

"The navy being aloft and the shore establishment being of use only in so far as it contributes to fleet efficiency,

PRINCETON-HARVARD GAME FIRST OF YEAR IN WHICH THE "BIG FELLOWS" MEET.

CAPT. MAHAN, HARVARD, SCENE AT GAME ON PRINCETON FIELD. CAPT. BLICK, PRINCETON

Princeton and Harvard, scheduled to get together on the gridiron Nov. 6, have the best year's records of any of the teams formerly known as the "Big Fellows."

Sale has been credited into the mid by Virginia and Washington and Jefferson, while Princeton and Penn State have taken Pennsylvania's measure. Cornell's defeat of Harvard, 19 to 0, has sneered the crimson pennant, however, and Princeton has been scored upon. Lots of folks don't see another Brickley in Mahan, Harvard's captain, but he's a good enough halfback for any team in America this year. In Captain Blick of Princeton the orange and black has a first class man at running a team. The picture shows the two captains, also a scene at a football game on the Princeton field.

says the admiral, "the ideal way in which to conduct the activities of any strictly service bureau would seem to be to follow as closely as possible the administrative methods of the fleet."

The report then deals at length with changes of method inaugurated during the year to accomplish this end, and the speeding up of the bureau machinery which has resulted in more prompt handling of bids for supplies etc.

The report notes that use of navy collars to carry coal to the Philippines, because of the shortage of merchant charters available, effected a saving of $57,000 for the two ship loads despatched in 1914 and 1915. A similar saving was effected on coal transferred in colliers to the Pacific coast stations the rate per ton on a shipment on the Mars being $1.05 as against $3.25 the lowest private bid.

The average daily cost of subsistence per man for the navy in 1915 was $0.300 as against $0.306 in 1914. The report quotes reports from numerous medical officers of the fleet to show that food was good, both in quantity and quality, and that there was no complaint from the men on either score.

ELIOT SCHOOL TEACHER HAD LIFE THREATENED

W. J. PORTER MADE DEMAND FOR CUSTODY OF HIS SON AND THREATENED TO SHOOT TEACHER WHEN REFUSED

Considerable excitement occurred yesterday forenoon at school number 9, in Eliot, when William J. Porter, a resident of Eliot, threatened to shoot Miss Florence Leighton, the teacher, after she had refused to turn his son, who is one of her pupils, over to him at his demand. Porter was later arrested by Deputy Sheriff Leach of York County and locked up. He will be tried today on a charge of drunkenness and Mr. Leach stated last evening that his threat to harm Miss Leighton may also be brought against him.

Porter, who has been living in Eliot for some time, has separated from his wife and has been boarding in Kittery. Yesterday morning, it is alleged, he became somewhat intoxicated and went to the schoolhouse in Eliot, making a demand on Miss Leighton, for the custody of his son. Miss Leighton refused his demand, and Porter became violent and threatening in his actions and language. The children were pale and stricken for some time and it was not until Miss Leighton had phoned for the sheriff that Porter made his departure.

When Mr. Leach reached the scene of the trouble Porter had disappeared, but was later found hidden in the coal bin in one of the houses close by. Mr. Leach placed him under arrest on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and if the necessary witnesses will appear against him today the more serious charge will be pressed in the district court.

FIRE DRILLS IN SCHOOLS HELD MONDAY

GOOD TIME MADE BY PUPILS IN THE SEVERAL SCHOOLS IN LEAVING THE BUILDINGS YESTERDAY

As a result of an inspection of the fire drills at the several schools yesterday afternoon by Superintendent of Schools Pringle and Chief Woods of the Fire Department, it became known that since the close of schools last summer, when the last inspection was made, that in every case the children have made an improvement of about fifty percent in the speed in which they made their exits from the buildings. The drills yesterday were held without any warning or notice being given in any instance as it was the purpose of the superintendent and the Fire Chief to learn, if possible, just how well the pupils were drilled in leaving the buildings if necessary.

The best time was made at the Cahot street school, where 140 pupils were outside 35 seconds after the alarm was sounded. At only one other school, the Franklin, was the time as low; the 70 pupils in that school getting out in the same time.

The time occupied in the several schools, as announced last evening by Chief Woods, was as follows:

| School | No. of Pupils | Time |
|--------------|---------------|------|
| Parragut | 350 | 1.20 |
| Haven | 330 | 1.35 |
| Lafayette | 300 | 1.30 |
| Cahot street | 140 | .35 |
| Whipple | 320 | 1.00 |
| Spaulding | 110 | 1.15 |
| Franklin | 70 | .35 |

Both Mr. Pringle and Chief Woods were well pleased with the time and the orderliness with which the pupils left the buildings. It is their intention to hold several drills throughout each school term so that the pupils may become accustomed to them in the event of the drills ever having to be used in case of emergency.

The Land of Opportunity.

Readers of this newspaper will recall that it recently had something to say with reference to the opportunities open to poor boys in this country. The article was suggested by the speech of a specialist who claimed that poor boys in the United States are born to live little better than slavery, and that under present conditions there is little chance for them to rise to anything better.

This paper attempted to point out the fallacy of such a contention, and most observant people are aware of the fact that while there are some things which are not exactly as they should be, the road to success is wide open to every boy who has the qualities in him and is willing to face the music and do his best.

And boys and young men of this sort are not lacking. The socialist said that poor boys are barred from the higher education, that the colleges are filled with the sons of rich men, while the poor boys have to go into the mines and the mills.

But not all poor boys are barred from the colleges by any means. There is hardly an educational institution in the land without its quota of students who are working their way through. Some one has been looking this matter up in a number of western colleges and universities, in which were found numerous students who are paying their way by working at whatever they can get to do. One is working as a tailor, another as a baker, and there is one versatile chap who turns his hand to barbering, painting, printing and reporting; two are conducting a doctor's collection agency, one is running a baggage transfer line, and various other employments have been taken up by young men who are not to be debarred from an education by the lack of ready cash. In this connection it may be stated that the president of one of the leading women's colleges of the country served as a table waiter in a college boarding house when he was pursuing his studies.

Not only are young men paying their way through college in the ways mentioned, but thousands who began with nothing and at the very bottom are forging their way to the front in all kinds of business. Cases are not unknown in which men have worked their way from the brakes to the presidency of railroads. The heads of many of the largest business concerns in the country were poor boys.

This is preeminently the land of opportunity, not only for poor boys, but for all who are willing to work and take advantage of the opportunities presented. To contend that this is not so is the height of folly, for the truth is so patent that he who runs may read.

The government has discovered that a site for a postoffice at Seattle, for which it paid $170,000, is flooded at high tide. The lot is to be sold for what it will bring and another will be bought. A city that would remain quiet while the government was making such a purchase should be compelled to take the load off its hands or go without a federal building.

A peevish resident of an eastern city has sent to the board of health a loaf of bread containing a sizable piece of rope. "Give them rope enough and they will hang themselves," is an old saying. Can it be that the baker is trying to change this to "Give them rope enough and they will choke themselves?"

A western college has ruled out football for the remainder of the season because of the death of a member of its team from injury. Football has its victims every year, but the game, like the automobile, goes on in spite of the attendant casualties. We are living in a strenuous age.

California has rejected the proposition to make all state offices non-partisan. The western country is very prolific in new political ideas, many of which have been adopted, but it appears that this was too big a dose, even for the Californians.

The President's note to Great Britain concerning the freedom of the seas will not have to be seized by officials. It will be delivered to the proper authorities voluntarily and promptly by the messenger in charge.

Villa's troops must have a care in their operations along the border. If they put themselves in the position of outlaws Uncle Sam will deal with them in a way which the survivors will not be apt to forget.

Some electricity should be injected into the settlement of the General Electric strike at Schenectady, N. Y. It is moving too slowly.

According to reports, the Sunday "dryness" in Chicago has been eased up to some extent.

Casualties are reported frequently from the numerous football fronts.

CURRENT OPINION

Belief of American People in Power of Democracy of Democracy Well Founded.

Do you realize that only so long ago as the time of the American Revolution democracy was regarded as an experiment in the world, and we were regarded as rash experimenters?

We not only believed in it; we showed that our belief was well founded and that a nation as powerful as any in the world could be erected upon the will of the people; that, indeed, there was a power in such a nation that dwelt in no other nation unless also in that nation the spirit of the people prevailed.

Democracy is the most difficult form of government because it is the form under which you have to persuade the largest number of persons to do anything in particular. But I think we were the more pleased to undertake it because it is difficult. Anybody can do what is easy. We have shown that we could do what was hard, and the pride that ought to dwell in your hearts is that you saw to it that that experiment was brought to the day of its triumphant demonstration.

We now know and the world knows that the thing that we then undertook, rash as it seemed, has been practicable and that we have set up in the world a government maintained and promoted by the general consent and the general conviction.—By President Woodrow Wilson.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Conditions Are Bad.
Editor:
In making improvements in the police department the auto patrol is no doubt a necessity and there are other things that the city council should give some attention to. A detention room is one of the needs in the department. At present there is no place where a sick person can be properly cared for and many times they are thrown in with drunks and tramps to receive the care of a physician. A woman's cell is another matter that should be looked into, and a proper place provided for them when necessary. Had the city council acted wisely, the garage now under construction in the rear of the police headquarters, would have been a two-story modern brick building with the upper floor fitted with a cell for women and a room for detention. The present one is a very cheap affair and in less than two years it will be of no use to the city. Generally speaking, the present police station, especially the cell quarters, is a disgrace to a city, and the tax payers' money was thrown away in the construction of the same. It cannot be properly ventilated or lighted and if the people wish further information as to the conditions, a visit there any morning will satisfy them that "somebody" should get busy. If this was a private institution it would have been closed by the Board of Health long ago.

Working in the Dark.
The board ordered to investigate the stable fire of Sunday night, are still working on matters which appear to them to be somewhat of a mystery.

May Need It Some Day.
The improvements recently made under the supervision of Civil Engineer Carlson at the Front Street Bay, including painting and much concrete work necessary to preserve the structure. The plant has been out of commission for the past four years. It is anticipated that the plant may later be utilized by the government for other purposes.

BOY SCOUTS TO BE DEVELOPED

Scout Commissioner Loomis Addresses Large Audience at Y. M. C. A.—Local Committee Formed

Mr. Ormond E. Loomis, Scout Commissioner of Greater Boston, held the undivided attention of an enthusiastic audience at Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening. Mr. Loomis is a man of very strong personality, and impresses one with his great interest in and his thorough knowledge of his work.

Mr. Loomis said in part: "In speaking to you concerning the Boy Scout work, I realize that my time is limited; and I therefore wish to divide my subject into three parts:—
1. The Boy Scout Movement—its scope and purpose.
2. Why the Boy Scout Movement should be taken up by local men.
3. How best to develop the movement in Portsmouth."

The Boy Scout Movement, while scarcely five years old has now reached a point where its growth and success is a sure thing. We have in the United States today over three thousand registered Scoutmasters who have under their supervision a hundred and fifty thousand boys. In greater Boston alone there are at present over three thousand and registered scouts, and at least one thousand more in the making. By this statement, I refer to those boys who are now preparing for their Tenderfoot examination.

The Boy Scout programme provides that the boy pass three degrees before he becomes a full fledged scout, viz: a Tenderfoot, second class, and third class. Certain requirements are made before a boy can become a Tenderfoot. He must know the constitution, history and forms of respect due the United States flag. He must also be able to do four out of eight required knots. He must know the Scout Oath and Scout Law, and pledge his allegiance to them. Certain other requirements are made before a boy can become a second class scout, and additional and still harder requirements have to be met before he is deemed worthy to be a first class scout.

The whole system upon which the Scout work is based is this: to supply the boy with something that he likes, which at the same time is good for him. All modern education is tending toward this very ending. Formerly it was deemed necessary in order to benefit a boy to make him do something which was unpleasant for him, and directing him along the lines thus chosen.

Mr. Loomis followed these statements by a description of the work which he is directing in greater Boston. He continued his remarks by saying: "This is just as true of Portsmouth as it is of greater Boston that the work to be carried on successfully must be backed and directed by business men. In greater Boston we have a committee of counsel of seventy-five men who have supervision of the entire work. This committee is supposed to select and direct Scoutmasters, and Assist Scoutmasters. It is also supposed to manage the finances of the general work, in fact it is pure and simple directing commission. Some such committee should be necessary in this city. If the work is to be carried on successfully, because any movement to be successful must be carefully directed, and such careful direction can best come through a committee of men who are interested, and at the same time capable.

In touching upon the third point, "How best to develop the movement in Portsmouth," Mr. Loomis recommended that a committee of at least twenty be chosen, which first should attempt to arouse enthusiasm in the work, and then take charge of affairs, and raise a budget necessary to carry on the work.

After the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Loomis answered a question. Many of the citizens present took advantage of the opportunity and showed their keen interest in the movement by asking questions about the Scout Movement and its possibilities.

Following the question and answer session, Mr. Loomis, a committee of five was chosen to act as a nominating committee for the committee of twenty which were to be chosen later. It is expected that the members of this committee will get its members together very early.

The men chosen for this committee were: Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, Rev. William J. Staples, James N. Pringle, William Norton, Oskar G. Mehl.

ENGLAND NEEDS MONEY.
Premier Asquith in Remarkable Review of War, Admits It.

(Special to The Herald)
London, Nov. 2.—That the financial condition of the British empire was bad, was the sensational admission made by Premier Asquith to the House of Commons today. In the long speech on the course of the war, this declaration made a stir, especially when it was known that England was financing the war for the Allies. The drain on the treasury is the greatest that has been made on the resources of the country for centuries. It was intimated that England may be seeking another war loan in the United States. In the previous Gulf another important victory was in sight.

Premier Asquith said that the British forces were within a few miles of the Turkish city of Baghdad.

The Premier's points were as follows:
1. British losses in France and Flanders, 377,000.
2. Canada and New Zealand have contributed 90,000 troops since the war began.
3. The government sanctioned the Bordenelles campaign after a full investigation and against the wishes of Lord Fisher, former sea lord of the Admiralty.
4. Since the beginning of the war the Admiralty has transported 2,600,000 troops, 330,000 sick and wounded, 3,500,000 tons of ammunition and supplies and 800,000 horses with less than one-tenth of one per cent. loss.
5. The German fleet is bottled up and does not show its face.
6. After fifteen months the whole military and naval resources of Germany have been reduced to a few sporadic efforts of a few submarines.
7. In the eastern front the Germans have not gained a foot of ground since the first of April.

Secretary Lansing Requests an Explanation From England.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Nov. 2.—Secretary of State Lansing today called to Ambassador Page in London, to request an explanation from the British Foreign Office for the seizure of the American steamer Hocking, which was boarded by a prize crew from a British ship and taken into Halifax.

This incident has added fuel to the many complaints about the attitude of Great Britain in regards to American trade and there is small doubt that it will become a very important question when congress convenes in December.

MRS. LYNES' CASE OPENS

Sues as the Result of a Fall Received on Deer Street.

Mrs. Johanna Lynes of 85 Bridge street appeared in the superior court today as plaintiff in a suit against the firm of Warren Brothers of Boston for the sum of $5000. The case grew out of an accident on Oct. 21, 1914, when Mrs. Lynes fell at the corner of Deer and Vaughan streets, sustaining injuries to her leg. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the street, which was being paved under contract by the Boston firm, was not in a passable condition and that she was obliged to walk on a pile of dirt to get across the highway. In doing this the dirt slipped from under her feet and she fell heavily to the ground. Five witnesses for the plaintiff were on the stand during the forenoon and it is expected that the defendants will present their side this afternoon. Samuel W. Emery and Albert R. Hatch appear for Mrs. Lynes and John H. Bartlett and John L. Mitchell for the Warren Brothers.

NASHUA STRIKE EXPENSIVE

Costing City $3973.44 a Week to Maintain Troops and Special Police.

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 1.—Whether the city or the state shall in the end pay for maintaining the militia in Nashua on account of the strike of the textile operatives is causing discussion.

Afternoon Amos J. Wheeler, a member of the finance commission said today that if he had been present at the last meeting of the committee he would have signed a protest to the warrant by which the city treasury was relieved of $3973.44 for payroll and supplies for the troops covering a period of one week. Mr. Wheeler says he would not keep the troops here.

The protest on the warrant was signed by Aldermen George H. Abey, James Glynn and Cyrtile-Bradford. A previous warrant for $2604.96 does not bear a protest and is signed by all of the finance committee.

City Solicitor Harry P. Greeley is studying the law and precedents governing the payment of state troops called out by the municipal authorities. So far as can be learned here this is the first instance since the New Hampshire National Guard was created in 1877 that it has been called anywhere in the state to aid the civil authorities.

Twenty-five militiamen and four policemen were on guard at the mill gates this morning, the 29th day of the strike.

The total enrollment in the new textile union reached 1776 today, about one-half of the mill employees of Nashua.

WONDERFUL PLAY A DECIDED HIT LAST EVENING

BIRTH OF A NATION DREW BIG AUDIENCE AT THE PORTSMOUTH THEATRE ON OPENING NIGHT.

The performance at the Portsmouth Theatre last evening of the great photo drama, "The Birth of a Nation," was one of the finest entertainments that this popular play house has ever presented. Aside from the great amount of publicity that the production has gained since it was first shown in Boston, the play is one of the most spectacular dramas that was ever filmed. The big house was well filled with an attentive audience which sat contented through the three hours necessary to run the story. The stirring battle scenes, aided by the realistic mechanical effects and the music of the big orchestra, was wonderful.

The audience was entirely satisfied that it had witnessed one of the greatest productions that dramatic art has so far produced. It is safe to predict that the Portsmouth Theatre will have bigger and bigger houses every night this week while "The Birth of a Nation" is being shown.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

BIG FIRE LOSS IN BOSTON.

Car Barns Burn With Much Rolling Stock.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Flames swept the East Boston car barns of the Boston elevated railway company last night, destroying or damaging 25 semi-convertible street cars. The loss was estimated by company officials at about $250,000.

From the machine shop, where the blaze started, the fire jumped to a gasoline tank, causing an explosion which injured one man. The sparks were carried through the barn and out over half a hundred cars in the adjoining yard in a twinkling. On one side of the car barn was the company's power house, fronting it was a tenement district, and on the other side were gas and oil tanks. Except for a small blaze in one house, the flames confined the fire to the barn and yard.

DRAFTING DEFENSE BILLS

Leaders of Congress Get Ready to Start Work at Once.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Arrangements were made today by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, to begin drafting immediately the series of bills which will be introduced at the opening of congress to carry out the army's part of the administration national defense program. The senator had a conference with Secretary Garrison who promised that officials of the war department would give every possible aid in preparing the measures.

Chairman Ray of the house military affairs committee is expected to join Senator Chamberlain later and identical bills carrying out the program probably will be introduced simultaneously in both houses. The form of the measures will be determined by Senator Chamberlain and Representative Ray the war department supplying the necessary figures and statistics.

Probably there will be at least three bills, exclusive of the appropriation measures which will originate in the house, as required by the constitution. One will provide for the proposed increase in the regular army specifying the additional men and officers for each arm of the service; another will authorize the organization of the continental army, and another will deal with the wider recognition to be extended to the national guard.

Congress will be asked it was learned today, to appropriate $10,000,000 this year for the organized militia of the country or just about double the average amount asked by the war department for this purpose during the last few years. The money will go into equipment for the guardsmen, particularly for the special service corps like the artillery, signal corps, aviation, engineers, and the like it is understood.

The bill providing for the organization of the continental army will distribute this force throughout the country according to population under the present plan. Schemes will be worked out by the members of congress with the aid of the war college staff and other army officers. It is understood the war college already has prepared complete plans.

COURT MARTIAL OF ADM. LITTLE

Boston, November 1.—Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, pleaded not guilty before a naval court martial today to charges of neglect and careless methods while on duty as inspection officer during the construction of the submarine K-2 at the Fore River Shipbuilding company's yard at Quincy two years ago.

Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske was president of the court martial and Lt. Commander Alfred W. John, an judge advocate opened the proceedings, by reading the list of charges. Commander James L. Lattimer represented Rear Admiral Little.

Lt. Radford Moses, the first witness stated that he was one of the inspecting officers at Fore River during the building of the K-2 and subsequently was her commanding officer. He said he called the attention of Lt. Child, another inspector at the yard to certain defects in the battery cells. The voltage he said ran low after each discharge, and upon investigation he found lead drops in 13 of the 17 cells. He testified that he did not report the defects to Rear Admiral Little but called the matter over with him. The contractors, Lieut. Moses said, objected to making any change in the battery cells.

Rear Admiral Little raised the point that the condition of the cells did not constitute a defect in the workmanship on the submarine, but was due to construction by their makers, a New York firm which had been required by specifications to furnish them. The court went into executive session to discuss the point.

MILLIKEN LETTER— THE SITUATION.

After the prolonged upswing of security prices, especially the sharp rise in some of the war stocks, some readjustment of the speculative position was inevitable. The reaction which started on the day following the publication of the United States Steel quarterly report was in accord with predictions and while it may go somewhat further, experienced observers continue bullish on the market for the long pull and believe that the reaction is a healthy corrective and lays the basis for a later advance to higher levels.

The sharp decline in some of the war stocks and issues which have been unduly inflated, however, sounds a note of warning. Considerable discrimination should be exercised in the purchase of industrial issues. On the whole, the railroad and copper stocks perhaps represent the safest purchases at present.

Much has been heard of the coming "copper boom" and for months it has been predicted that the copper shares were on the verge of a move. There seems more real foundation for this just now than at any time since last spring. Although production of copper has been increased tremendously through the opening up of new properties and the increase to capacity operations in the case of others, consumption is upon a scale not generally appreciated. Whereas it has been supposed that a surplus of the metal was piling up and that the price could not be sustained at 18 cents, copper producers declare that not only are there no stocks on hand but that many of the big companies are sold up into next year. Heavy export sales have recently been made, and domestic consumers have commenced to show renewed interest in the metal.

Although the United States Steel earnings for the quarter did not quite meet the more optimistic predictions, they were nevertheless highly encouraging, showing so impressive an improvement from month to month. Failure of the directors to act on the dividend at this time did not occasion much surprise. There is practical assurance that with the expansion in earnings, dividends will be restored in January. Meantime steel prices continue to advance and there are signs of a runaway market.

CERTIFICATION OF LIFEBOAT MEN.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Department of Commerce Circular No. 267, dated October 22, 1915, designates "Deck officers of the vessels of the Lighthouse Service, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Fisheries Service" to examine applicants for certificates as lifeboat men in accordance with the provisions of the Seamen's Act, approved March 4, 1915.

Assistants, aids, and other officers of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, who stand a bridge watch, may be designated by commanding officers, or by inspectors, an examining officer, and shall be considered "deck officers" within the meaning of the above circular.

The examination shall be a reasonable demonstration to prove to the satisfaction of the examining officer that the applicant has been trained in all operations connected with launching of lifeboats and the use of cars; that he is acquainted with the practical handling of the boats themselves; and, further, that he is capable of understanding and answering the orders relative to lifeboat service.

HAVE REDUCED COST IN NAVY

The cost of subsistence for the enlisted men of the navy has shown a slight decrease in the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of Samuel McGowan, paymaster general of the navy. The paymaster general's report shows that the average daily cost of subsistence per man has declined from $0.3648 in the fiscal year, 1914, to $0.36038 in the fiscal year of 1915.

Prices of coal and fuel oil also show a reduction. Cargo coal at Hampton Roads is from 20 to 25 cents less per ton, according to the report, while the price of oil per barrel has fallen from $0.18 to $0.61. The paymaster general states that on account of the scarcity of vessels and the high ocean freight rates it has been found economical to ship coal to naval coaling stations from the Atlantic coast to the Philippines. The need for better storage facilities ashore is emphasized by the report which states that this subject has been studied by the general board of the navy.

"Storage ashore in general is at present barely sufficient to meet the normal demands of the fleet," says the report. "The advisability of consolidating and centralizing stores need scarcely be pointed out. For each additional ship there should be a corresponding increase in the storage on shore; and of course the same is true of what might be called storage afloat—supply ships and colliers. The whole problem of fleet supply has been carefully studied with a view of formulating comprehensive plans for use in time of stress."

Paymaster General McGowan is making a serious attempt to cut down the mass of correspondence which elevates persistently between the various offices. At present a slight error in the navy department causes an interchange of correspondence that will last six months and involve every bureau.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grownups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

THE GARDEN OF ALLAH

Will Be Seen at the Portsmouth Theatre on Nov. 11.

On Thursday Nov. 11 at the Portsmouth Theatre for a limited engagement of one night comes the Garden of Allah, the most gorgeous and majestic production that has ever come to this city, detailing a story of love and the sin of a Trappist monk, among scenic splendors of northern Africa and then into the heart of the desolate Sahara.

The play was dramatized from the famous novel of Robert Blyden by himself and Mary Anderson de Navaro.

The nine scenes of this spectacular production are beautiful in a rare measure and realistic in the portrayal of the life and customs of Oriental mystics which comprise the story and the surroundings.

Edith Lattimer heads the company as "Daniel Baudouin" and is fascinatingly adapted to the role of the saddened woman, seeking solace until the desert wastes, and loving with a wife's ardor and sacrifice, the broken-vowed monk of the Trappists. Lawson Hall gives a masterful and artistic portrayal of "Boris Androvsky," the monk, who deserts his monastery to walk out and meet the strange things of the world, and his tone of expression never fails of appreciation; while Howard Gould's interpretation of "Count Antoin" is a masterpiece.

Others in the cast are Thaiden Gray, William Jeffrey, Estelle Theibaud, Albert Andrews, and the Abbott Family of five. In the company of one hundred, which also includes Arabs, Armenians, Africans, and five camels, seven horses, six donkeys and eight goats.

CHANDLER HOME BECOMES PROPERTY OF BISHOP GUERTIN

Manchester, Nov. 1.—Negotiations were completed today at the office of Hilday & Burgess whereby the Roman Catholic bishop of Manchester is made the owner of the late George Byron Chandler residence. The property comprises an entire square bounded by Orange, Myrtle, Walnut and Beech streets, with an area of 18,400 square feet. This is the largest and most expensive residential property that has been sold in Manchester in many years.

Mr. Chandler was one of the first to purchase one of the lots when they were put on the market by the Amoskeag Manufacturing company in 1863. He created a very substantial house thereon and occupied it until about 1882, when he decided to have a larger and more pretentious residence. The old house was removed and replaced by the present structure, which is considered from an architectural viewpoint to be one of the most attractive places in the city. Mr. Chandler employed architects and nothing was overlooked for comfort, convenience and durability. The interior of the house is finished mostly in quartered oak mahogany and cherry, with parquet floors. The reception hall is very spacious.

Mrs. Chandler has had a hundred guests seated comfortably in this room alone. The ceilings are timbered. Much of the woodwork in the hall is built-in with several hand-carved pieces of furniture to match. The parlor was the room of which Mrs. Chandler was justly proud, the decorations alone costing upwards of $3000, the standing work and ceiling being in old ivory, the wall paneling with old rose satin brocade with very heavy pattern, drapery and Wilton carpet of the same shade. The library is finished in mahogany and the dining room in quartered oak. There are 12 rooms, bath rooms and billiard room on the second and third floors. The exterior walls of the house are of brick and clapboards with heavy stone underpinning. The house is set at the northeast corner of the grounds, with a large stable-garage at the southeast corner. The lawn has a gradual slope away from the buildings and has plenty of beautiful shade trees and shrubbery with driveway leading from the porte cochere at the south side of the house.

Bishop Guertin is undecided as yet what he will make of his new purchase, but it has been intimated that he may decide to occupy it as a residence.

of next winter's legislation. With an average of forty officers to a regiment this will mean that 400 additional commissioned officers must be supplied at once. In view of the vacancies constantly occurring by deaths, resignations, and retirements, it means more than this. It seems likely that within a year there will be 35,000 men in the United States Army instead of 33,000 as at present, and that within five years the force will be increased by 50,000 men. The officer problem is a serious one for a man needs special training before he can take a commission and, moreover, his temperament must be known definitely.

Even with a possible increase in the capacity of the Military Academy and with promotions from the ranks of non-commissioned officers, there still will be a lack of men down to the lowest commissioned rank.

With the increase of the regular army in view, Congress is expected to make provision by which capable National Guard officers can secure commissions in the regular service after West Point graduates and deserving non-commissioned officers of regulars have been provided for. After the competent guardsmen have been placed, the remaining vacancies will be given to graduates of private military schools who show proficiency and who are physically fit. Probably the day of political appointments from civil life soon will be over.

Officers of regulars show a deep interest in the question of promoting after the army has been increased. On the basis of ten regiments increase the first year, there will be ten colonels, ten lieutenant colonels, thirty majors, 120 captains, and a like number each of first and second lieutenants, who must be transferred to or directly appointed to the new organization.

Navy Makes Its Own Powder
The desirability of increasing facilities at Government-owned ordnance and powder plants probably will be emphasized by Secretary Daniels in his forthcoming annual report. "The secretary it is known, is much pleased over reports submitted to him by the navy's bureau of ordnance, showing highly satisfactory results in the manufacture of powder at the Indian Head (Md.) plant.

Officials estimate that, with the manufacture of smokeless powder at Indian Head, it will be possible to furnish the navy with all the ammunition that it needs at a cost of approximately twenty-five cents a pound. Satisfactory results have similarly been observed in the manufacture and production of torpedoes at the Government plant at Newport, R. I., where the capacity has increased one hundred per cent.

Manufacture of mines has never been carried on to any extent in the United States until recently. Hitherto the Navy Department purchased mines from European countries, but on account of the war it has found it necessary to produce its own and this is now being carried on at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

Secretary Daniels said his idea was to utilize the present maintained plant as a means of controlling the proposals from private concerns in order to put the navy in a position to purchase at moderate terms.

VALUABLE ADVICE

Portsmouth Citizens Should Profit By The Following Statement.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used by this Portsmouth resident.

Their merit was shown—the story told.

Now comes further evidence. The testimony is confirmed. The remedy was tested—the results lasted.

Could Portsmouth residents demand stronger proof?

It's Portsmouth testimony. It can be investigated.

George S. Chandler, 420 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, says: "I do a great deal of walking in my work and in that way my kidneys became weakened, causing me much suffering. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have had little kidney trouble since. I have recommended this medicine to many of my friends and in every instance where it has been tried, benefit has followed."

A Permanent Benefit.

More than five years later, Mr. Chandler said: "I can't endorse Doan's Kidney Pills with pleasure for the cure they gave me has been lasting."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Chandler has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE TWELVE TRIBES OF SPIRITUAL ISRAEL

These, as Elect of God, Will Constitute the Christ Body.

The Christ Company, Head and Body. God's Elect Gathered From Jews and Gentiles—Not Many Wise or Rich Called—The Great Company Who Lose Their Crowns—Neglect of Their Vow of Faithfulness—Present War and Its Outcome—God's Faithful to Point to Christ's Coming Kingdom.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—Pastor Russell's discourse here today was intensely interesting. His text was, "And I heard the number of them that were sealed; and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel."

The Pastor introduced his theme with a brief explanation of our Lord's two changes of name, as set forth in the Scriptures. Before coming into the world, our Lord was known as the Logos—Jehovah's only direct creation. He became a man, and as such gave Himself in consecration to do the Father's will, even at the cost of His own life, that He might redeem the fallen human race. For this work the Father highly rewarded Him, raising Him from the dead a Divine Being—Exaltation 3:14; Col. 1:15; Philippians 2:6-11.

Our Lord's perfect obedience was the basis on which Jehovah raised Him to His present high position. God might have let Him begin at once His great work of blessing mankind. But Jehovah had purposed that certain ones chosen from the human family would gladly become followers of Jesus in order to share His glory. God had arranged that this class should be united to Christ as His Body, His Bride. This company is to be composed of 144,000.

As usual, the Pastor cited many corroborative Scriptures. He then explained how the Church, the Body of Christ, came to be of the twelve tribes of Israel. He declared that God had laid out the entire program of the Gospel Age upon the Jewish basis. Provision was made for choosing the Church from Natural Israel—12,000 from each tribe. God foreknew, however, that only a small remnant from all the tribes would receive our Lord as Messiah. Approximately only 15,000 were gathered to Him during the Jewish harvest.

After the close of the seventy symbolic weeks of favor to Israel, God turned to the Gentiles, to fill up the required number of the Elect. Of those received from the Gentiles, some will be put into one tribe and some into another, as God wills. (Romans 11:17-25.) But His decision will be satisfactory.

The Revelator mentions another company, much larger than the Very Elect. This Great Company have not lived in harmony with their consecration vows. They have sinned their garments and must wash them "while in the blood of the Lamb." They must cleanse themselves during a great "Time of Trouble" such as was not since there was a nation. Some of them have been weak through fear of loss of worldly favor; others have been hindered by the cares of this life. They have neglected to avail themselves of the privilege of daily cleansing at the Throne of Heavenly Grace. Therefore they have lost their crowns. Should any of this class plunge into wilful sin, such will die the Second Death.

The speaker called attention to the Scripture which reads, "Judgment must begin at the House of God." (1 Peter 4:17)—the professed Church of Christ—and exhorted his hearers to diligence in keeping themselves unspotted from the world. He showed that all who are slothful in this matter must answer for their unfaithfulness; that unless this condition is promptly rectified, these will lose their crowns and receive sore chastisement in the coming trouble—the "great tribulation." This does not mean eternal torment, however; for the Scriptures represent the Great Company as eventually getting palms of victory, and as serving God in His Temple. The faithful class, on the contrary, will receive the crown of glory—immortality.

"He Cometh Now to Reign."

The remainder of the discourse related to the Messianic Kingdom, which the Pastor declares will soon be inaugurated. The present great war, he asserted, is the beginning of the work of disintegration of earthly kingdoms, according to Scripture. Therefore members of the Church of Christ should avoid all partisanship, should rid themselves of all false expectations, that thus they may be better able to see God's view of the whole matter.

This war has been brewing for the past forty years. Each nation has determined to have, it possible, what it considers its rights on the sea. Each has determined that rival nations shall not have the supremacy. Jealousy and selfishness have been rampant. It would be very improper for true Christians to have any prejudice in one way or another; for we are to love all mankind, irrespective of nationality. We do not wish to see any of them injured and are sorry that they do not know better than to destroy one another.

"NOODLES" FAGAN ENTERTAINED BIG CROWD AT THE COLONIAL

"NOODLES" FAGAN, KING OF NEWSBOYS

Friend of Newsboys Gave a Lot of Good Advice as Well as Entertainment--Will be Host to Newsboys This Afternoon.

"Noodles" Fagan, who is the most popular of the P. W. Hartford publications, the most widely known newsboy in the world, and one of the most unique performers in vaudeville, held the big audience at the Colonial theatre in a show of laughter last evening for more than half an hour. His act, from the first moment he opened until he finished his talk, with which he was obliged to close, was given heartily, applause and appreciation. After his first song, Mr. Fagan had the audience with him to do with as he wished. His comedy was real comedy and the kind that hit the right spot. His welcome came as near being the "rue" that the majority of vaudeville performers like to boast about, as any act that has played here for a long time.

In his last number Mr. Fagan introduced Paxton Fagan who joined in singing, "And the Band Played All the Time," the song hit from "Town Topics," one of the most successful musical comedies now playing. Mr. Fagan invited the audience to join with him in the second chorus and later made another hit when their little daughter, Mary, aged four, sang from one of the songs.

In response to the long continued applause Mr. Fagan made a short pitchy address to the audience, full of the kind of advice that followed, would place the town up where it belonged. He urged the people of Portsmouth to patronize their home merchants rather than do their trading out of town. He paid a high compliment to the condition of the streets, the homes and especially to the stores and the merchants of the city.

He said in part: "Don't get to some other town or to Boston to buy your things, and do your shopping. Stick to your home merchants. Help them out. They'll do their best to give you the best if you'll give them your interest and give them your backing."

"I tell you, a civic organization could never do anything more effective in the long run than to develop this spirit of supporting your local merchants. The easier you make things for your merchants, the better they'll help you make your city and the more fame they'll try to bring to it. The local merchant is worth sticking to. In supporting him you're doing the quick and the best thing to help your city, because if the stores grow then, the town will grow."

noon at a dinner. The majority were business friends from Philadelphia and New York who were his week-end guests.

OFFICIALS MAKE INSPECTION

A special train with officials of the R. B. Phillips Muntion Co., who have taken over the Colonial Paper Company plant at Freeman's Point, arrived here at 2:45 this afternoon. The train left Boston at 1:30 and made the run in fast time and at the station here the party were met by the officials who arrived here yesterday.

No advance notice of their coming was received at the paper mill by Receiver Law.

The party made an inspection of the plant and also looked over the property up the river including that of the American Agricultural and Chemical Company, the Melvin Co., and the Eastern Oil and Rendering Company, which will probably be added to the holdings of the company here.

In the party were representative business men from New York and Boston.
